

Cassie:

1. I didn't get very far, but the place of most tension that I did get to, I would have to say was when I did get to the robots.
2. I was pretty conservative with my light, which probably meant that I missed a ton of things... that's also probably how I died
3. I died in the area with the robots. I was trying to sneak past them (avoid conflict you know?) and then one of the robots with the lights got on me and I couldn't move or anything... so I assume I was dead, I might not have been...
4. I died in that area I mentioned earlier.

Your game was awesome! I love the mechanic usage. That dialogue you had at the start was a clever way to help me know how to play the game without spoon feeding me the mechanics.
